Abengoa awarded the Madrid Excelente Prize for Client Confidence 2012

- Presented in the Large Corporate Groups category of companies not certified with the Madrid Excelente mark.

June 3, 2013. Abengoa (MCE: ABG), the company that applies innovative technology solutions for sustainability in the energy and environment sectors, has been presented with the Madrid Excelente Prize for Client Confidence 2012 in the Large Corporate Groups category for companies not certified with the Madrid Excelente mark. The award given by the "Madrid por la Excelencia" Foundation of the regional ministry of economy and finance of the regional government of Madrid, acknowledges excellence in companies and institutions that focus their management on clients and earn their trust.

Fernando Martínez Salcedo, Abengoa's general secretary of sustainability, received the award from the president of the Community of Madrid, Ignacio González, at the event held this morning at the Real Casa de Correos, the regional government's headquarters.

The Madrid Excelente Prizes are prestigious awards that recognize innovation, quality and the commitment of companies in search of business excellence.

The awards, which are celebrating their 7th edition, feature two categories. The first is for companies and organizations that hold the Madrid Excelente Mark, while the second is for other companies and organizations in the Madrid region that have earned the trust of their clients thanks to the quality of their products and services. There are four segments in each category: large corporate groups, large companies, SMEs and non-profit organizations.
