

Abengoa becomes a member of Forética

- This membership reflects the company's commitment to develop its business ethically and transparently

July 17, 2013. Abengoa (MCE: ABG.B), the company that applies innovative technology solutions for sustainability in the energy and environment sectors, has joined Forética, the association of leading CSR companies and professionals in Spain and Latin America, which seeks to promote a culture of ethical management and corporate social responsibility.

Abengoa has joined Forética as a "partner company" to support the implementation of a competitive and sustainable business model, which is essential for developing corporate social responsibility in a global business environment.

Abengoa's management is known for promoting entrepreneurship, social responsibility, transparency and diligence. Consequently, all of the company's activities and processes are based on a sustainable development model that seeks to find a balance that maximizes the benefits for everyone with the highest levels of integrity and transparency.

Abengoa therefore hopes to contribute its experience and knowledge of responsible management and developing innovative technology solutions for sustainable development on a global scale.

Abengoa has had a Corporate Social Responsibility Master Plan since 2008, which includes the company's guidelines in relation to sustainability and enables its CSR policy to be implemented vertically, horizontally and transversally by designing specific and multidisciplinary actions that are adapted to the situation in its different companies and locations.
