

IV Annual Analyst and Investor Day
"Sunny Days Ahead"
Seville, October 22nd & 23rd, 2008

Abengoa will be hosting its IV Annual Analyst and Investor Day under the theme "Abengoa, sunny days ahead".

The main goal is to present and explain to the investment community- analysts, fund managers and other institutional investors- the strategic vision, plans and perspectives of Abengoa.

The Investor Day will take place in Seville on October 22nd and 23rd.

According to the attached program, on those days, the CEOs of our five business units will be presenting their strategy, operations, technologies and growth opportunities along with other top management representatives.

In order to make the Investor Day a memorable one, apart from the official programs we also included a visit to our Solúcar Solar Platform near Seville. We will be touring the PS10 and PS20 tower technology plants, the Solnova trough plants, several PV installations and the R&D facilities where we will see some of the most promising new technologies in solar power.

Below you will find some practical information about the event and a detailed schedule for those days. Do not hesitate to contact us for any further information.

Based on our estimations we may expect high demand for attendance at this conference, thus we have set the reply date deadline as September 30th, 2008. Please return the duly filled out application form to the Investor Relations department of Abengoa as soon as possible in order that we may hold space for you.

We will be looking forward to meeting you in Seville.

Best Regards,

Juan Carlos Jiménez Lora
Head of IR
