

By 2010, oil imports into the EU as raw materials for producing biodiesel will account for 60-70%

F&S forecasts a highly significant increase in oils as raw materials for producing biodiesel, essentially for soya and palm oils, which will limit the expansion of biodiesel

Source: Frost & Sullivan

BP estimates biodiesel production of 12,500 million litres by 2010, equal to 5,000 million litres (40%) using local production and 7,500 million litres with imported oils (60%) ... equivalent to 13% of all oil exported in 2006

Source: USDA, FOLicht, PFC

