

Abengoa Inabensa is awarded a new engineering and construction project in Belgium

- The company will undertake the mechanical installations of the new building at the Lieja University Hospital Center.
- The project is valued at €12.7 M.

April 7, 2017 – Abengoa (MCE: ABG/P:SM), an international company that applies innovative technology solutions for sustainable development in the energy and environment sectors, through its subsidiary Instalaciones Inabensa, has been selected, by the Lieja University Hospital Center, to undertake the mechanical installations for their new building. The project is worth €12.7 M.

Abengoa Inabensa will be responsible for the execution and development of the overall project that includes the air-conditioning, ventilation, the building management system, as well as the associated electrical installations.

The building will occupy 23,500 square meters and seven floors, and will be located next to the Lieja Hospital, on the Sart Tilman Campus. This extension will be used as an outpatient tumour care center (Integrated Oncology Center, IOC) in addition to housing the set of Unilab-Lg analysis laboratories. It is included in the hospital's global strategic plan that aims to provide care of the highest academic quality which is available to all while, at the same time, safeguarding the financial sustainability of the institution.

Abengoa Inabensa has extensive experience in the sector, and was recently also awarded the contract to carry out air-conditioning and ventilation electrical installations at the hospital in Herlev, Denmark.
