Abengoa, awarded in Chile in terms of Safety

- The company has been recognized for the fifth time by the Chilean Chamber of Construction in the honor roll, in the six stars category 2021.

May 26, 2021 - Abengoa Chile has been recognized, within the framework of its accident rate indicators for the 2020 period, in the honor roll of the Chilean Chamber of Construction, in the highest category of six stars. The company has received this award for the sixth time in this category, which manifests Abengoa's commitment with the Health and Safety of all its employees.

Specifically, the Qualifying Commission, in accordance with the rules of the contest, has verified that the company met all the requirements to qualify for the Honor Roll in Occupational Health and Safety, obtaining the highest category of six Stars. This distinction recognizes those companies that have distinguished themselves in terms of occupational safety and that during the last three years have obtained excellence in their accident rate indicators.

This Honor Roll in Risk Prevention has been held since 2000 and aims to promote a culture of safety and risk prevention among the associates of the Chilean Chamber of Construction at the country level.
